FESS MAY BOLT IF BORAH WINS AT CONVENTION

Threatens "To Take a Walk" Should G. O. P. Nominate Idaho Man for Presidency.

NORRIS HITS AT FARLEY

Says Democratic Campaign Manager Should Not Be Postmaster General

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(By The Associated Press.)—Grumblings in the ranks and another threat to take a walk came today as party chieftains sharpened their swords and their words in the campaign for and against the new deal.

Simon D. Fess, former Ohio senator and former Republican national chairman, hinted he may take a walk if Sen. Borah, Republican of Idaho, becomes his party's nominee for the presidency.

Norris Hits Farley

Sen. Norris, Republican of Nebraska, eager supporter of President Roosevelt, nevertheless hit again at James A. Farley's dual role as postmaster general and Democratic national chairman.

A man managing a campaign ought not to be postmaster general, he said on the senate floor yesterday.

At far apart points the administration was attacked by Col. Frank Knox, publisher often listed as a Republican presidential contender.

Sen. Dickinson, Republican of Iowa, who also has been mentioned frequently as a possible nominee, and Joseph Shouse, president of the American Liberty league, at whose dinner table Alfred L. Smith uttered the threat to take a walk.

If the Democratic convention in St. Louis should nominate Fess, he said, he would resign his seat in the senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The United States and Canada clinched berths in the next round of Olympic hockey competition today as the skiers men and women opened their competition with downhill racing and bob-sledders ran into an indefinite postponement because of the poor condition of the ice.

Displaying much better form than in their defeat of Germany 1-0 yesterday, the American hockey representatives turned back Switzerland 3-0 with a dazzling second period offensive that netted all three goals inside one minute of play.

Canada Downs Latvia

Canada's defending champion meantime crushed Latvia 11-0 for its second victory in as many days.

Both the United States and Canada thus qualified for the second series of round robin which will lead to the crowning of an Olympic champion.

Norway made a clean sweep of both the men and women's downhill skiing titles the unofficial final placings indicated.

Bigger Round crack all around Norse skier topped the men's division while the women were paced by Nilsen Laila Schou also of Norway.

Athletes Officially Argue

As in the two previous Olympic games again have found sources of dissatisfaction to start squabbles.

At Lake Placid in 1932 arguments arose about the bob sled when European racers accustomed to the snow runs sought to have the course made slower while the Americans fought for the speedy and dangerous glare ice.

Before that there was the famous 1928 dispute about the cancelling of the 10,000 meter speed skating event at St. Moritz when the American star Irving Jaffee was leading on time.

WRITING OF COUNTY TAX BILLS STARTED

Expected To Be Ready for Starting Realty Levy Collection by March 1.

Start of the real estate tax collection by March 1 appeared probable today as clerks in the office of County Treasurer Homer D. Cole began preparing approximately 18,000 bills for Marion county taxpayers.

The treasurer's office began preparation of the bills after the charges against each property owner were computed in the office of County Auditor Harry V. Mounts.

Nearly three weeks will be required to complete the work in the treasurer's office. Collection will start as soon as the bills are prepared.

Officials in the auditor's office are now preparing an abstract in the tax duplicate showing the value of all real estate in the county and the total amount of taxes to be collected.

The collection to start March 1 is for the first half of the 1935 taxes and is ordinarily started in December. Delay in enacting a state tax program by the legislature however resulted in a postponement of the collection, county officials said.

FRANK BROTHERS' TRIAL POSTPONED

Illness of Grant E. Mouser Sr. of Marion today forced postponement of the trial in common pleas court at Columbus of Frank Brothers.

Formerly of Marion charged with embezzling funds from the state division of conservation, The Associated Press reported in a news dispatch from Columbus.

Prosecutor Donald J. Hawkins said the trial scheduled to start today would be delayed at least two weeks. Brothers formerly was chief clerk in the conservation division. He had retained Mr. Mouser as attorney.

It was announced today at Mr. Mouser's residence that he planned to return to his law offices within a few weeks.

The state bureau of accounting charged Brothers was short $31,000 in his accounts.

House Republicans Fear Dislocation of Agriculture If Measure Passes

SAY IT WOULD HIT DAIRIES

Also Apprehensive of Power It Would Give Wallace, Roosevelt Studies Tax

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(By The Associated Press.)—Unprecedented powers for Secretary Wallace and dislocation of agriculture at the expense of dairies were feared today by the new farm bill today by seven Republicans of the house agriculture committee.

They filed a minority report on the subsidy relief conservation measure pending in both house and senate. Almost unanimously President Roosevelt again estimated the tax need for the new program at $500,000,000 but said its form still was in the study stage.

Party lines had split in the senate over the farm measure with its constitutional challenges and defended.

Would Grant Subsidies

With minor differences both house and senate bills would provide a system of subsidies for farmers who would cooperate in withdrawing acreage from commercial crop production. The subsidies would go direct to the farmers or indirectly through states desiring to cooperate.

The seven Republican report signers said Secretary Wallace and Farm Administrator Chester Davis identified before the committee in formal hearings that the greater part of the land to be taken out of production through soil conservation activities would be used for grain and conceded dairy and livestock production would be increased materially.

We are opposed to a program which has for its purpose dislocation of agriculture in this country, the Republicans declared.

Apparently it is the purpose of the secretary to carry out the conservation program at the expense of the dairy and livestock industry which now faces a surplus condition.

The report was signed by Reps. sentatives Andrew Minnesota, Kinzer Pennsylvania, Tobey New Hampshire, Marshall Ohio, Goodwin New York, Hope Kansas, and Gilchrist Iowa. Rep. Bollinger, Progressive of Wisconsin, has filed a separate minority report objecting to the failure of the measure to stipulate that land taken out of production not be used for dairy or other production for sale.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Major moves designed to avert any harmful reaction from the tax paying and consuming public were in the making today as the government proceeded with its farm and financing plans.

Sen. Wagner, Democrat of New York, with the support of other prominent Democrats led a movement to alter the newest substitute for AAA in an effort to allay any apprehension that "scarcity" economics would be practiced.

Democratic leaders were open in forecasting the new farm plan which is being piloted by Sen. Borah, Democrat of South Carolina, toward an expected vote next Monday or Tuesday.

Sen. Wagner wants to make sure that a normal production period be chosen as the basis for subsidies—not a period when crops were short. He seeks to "allay any apprehension that this is a program of scarcity."

The Wagner suggestion gained support as the senate drove into further debate on the new farm plan which is being piloted by Sen. Borah, Democrat of South Carolina, toward an expected vote next Monday or Tuesday.

DAVEY CUTS 3 MORE MILLION OFF BUDGET

Part of Marion Relief Load Is Shifted To City

Major and Councilmen Seek Means of Paying New Obligations from Already Overtaxed Treasury.

Responsibility for furnishing medical care, clothing and public utility services to 3,858 relief clients passed to the municipal government yesterday and officials today studied in vain for a method of financing this new obligation.

The responsibility was passed to the city by John Abel, county relief director in a conference with Mayor Frederick C. Smith yesterday afternoon. Director Abel informed the mayor that the county relief administration is without funds to provide medical care, clothing and public utility services at least for the present and that the city must arrange to do this or clients will suffer hardships.

The conference was arranged by Mayor Smith after dozens of clients had turned to him and other city officials for help after learning from the county relief administration that relief allowances in February would include only food fuel and in emergency cases shelter.

Mayor Smith today said he will present the problem of financing this phase of relief to council Monday night and in the meantime will do everything in his power to meet the needs of clients and prevent hardships. However, he said today, the relief families must make the best of it until some municipal plan of handling the city's phase of the problem is worked out.

Several physicians added that the city should estimate the services of two to four physicians will be required to give this number of persons medical attention. Neither he nor Mr. Abel could make any estimate of the cost of providing clothing and public utility services for the families. The mayor emphasized that there are no funds immediately in sight to pay for these relief needs adding that any plan worked out would have to be on a limited scale because of the serious financial condition of the city.

As city officials grappled with the new problem today it was the first time since fall of 1933 when the federal government stepped into the relief picture that the city has been obliged to handle directly any phase of their problem except charity hospitalization and relief burials.

Following Mr. Abel's conference with Mayor Smith the city's relief load of 1,119 cases looked to the city for medical help, public utility services and clothing. This number of cases Mr. Abel said represents 883 families with a total membership of 2,583, and 264 non-family persons making a total of 3,858 on the city's relief list. Of the total of 1,119 "cases," 765 could be taken off relief if WPA jobs were provided for them while 354 cases would remain relief.

Mercury Hits Highest Mark Since Feb. 2

Snow Comes With Rise; Coal Shortage Hits Many Localities

Half an inch of snow fell in Marion last night and early this morning and a mercury rose to 15 degrees above zero the highest official reading here since Feb. 2.

Threatening the rising temperature government weathermen predicted slightly colder weather tonight. A new blizzard hit the Pacific northwest, the region in which Marion's sub-zero temperatures of the last several weeks have originated. More snow is forecast for Saturday.

The south today faced a flood threat and the coin belt region was still braving zero weather. Rising temperatures prevailed throughout the state last night but two more deaths attributed to the cold were added to Ohio toll on in Warren and one in Cleveland.

Many communities today faced coal shortage and dealers began restricting deliveries.

Mercury Hits 20 at Noon Today

Marionites fully asked today as the sun shone and there was every indication at noon that the mercury would shoot above the week's record maximum of 22 registered yesterday by the official weather bureau thermometer.

At 11:30 a.m. the official temperature was 20 degrees higher than the reading at noon yesterday.

Last night's low of 15 above was the highest minimum reading since Feb. 2 when the mercury registered 17 above and accompanying the rising temperature was half an inch of snow which fell between midnight and 3 a.m.

A year ago today the maximum temperature was 35 but a sharp drop during the night sent the mercury to seven at 3 a.m.

Hill-Folk Wit Flourishes In Stephenson's Opinions

Editor's Note:—This is the third of a series of sketches on Ohio's supreme court justices.

By The Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 1.—Five years ago Judge Will P. Stephenson took with him from Adams county to the Ohio supreme court bench the good-natured characteristics of the hill-folk of that community.

He knows the language of the plain people with whom he has lived for more than 60 years, and his natural propensities for wit and humor are not restrained even in the preparation of opinions constraining abstract legal questions. He likes to talk and write in the language of the man of the street or of the hills.

In one of his opinions he wrote: "We have no knowledge of Mary Cornish, other than that she was the niece of Maggie Kerbel and a 'rolling stone.' The record does not indicate that she gathered any moss, but it divulges indubitably that she became quite smooth. When the smoke cleared away, Mary was gone and counsel informed us that she is a fugitive from justice."

"The fact that this niece fleeced her aunt out of $10,000, probably all she had, is most lamentable. We assume that in all she had, on the ground that had she been possessed of more Mary would have gotten it."

In another opinion involving a fisherman who had been killed by lightning, he said: "The record is silent as to what the fisherman had in his hands when he was killed. In the absence of any testimony along that line, it is fair to assume that he was not fishing with a steel shovel."

For daily recreation, the 67-year-old jurist, short and stumpy, likes nothing better than a game of pool or billiards during the lunch period. His chief pool partner is Elliot Welsh, a deputy supreme court clerk, who, in point of age, could almost call him "great grandpa."

"There go June and January for their pool" is a comment sometimes heard about the Capitol when the judge and Welsh start out together.

His close friends say he also likes a good game of "even-up" as played by his old cronies in Adams county, and that the intricacies of the more modern game of bridge hold no terrors for him.

As an after-dinner speaker, the congenial jurist has few equals in the state, and his services are greatly in demand. His keen wit and humor are certain to keep the party alive.

Judge Stephenson first came into prominence more than a quarter of a century ago when, as a special officer, he prosecuted the famous Adams county election fraud cases. Almost half the voting population of the county had been disfranchised by Judge A. Z. Blair for selling votes.

Later, he was elected to the combined office of common pleas and probate judge of his home county and served in the office until January, 1922, when he was appointed to the supreme bench to fill a vacancy. He was elected for a four-year term at the following November election.

MINISTER EYES CANADIAN BANK

Governor General Forecasts Government Ownership as Parliament Opens.

Special to The Star

OTTAWA, Feb. 1.—Government ownership of the Bank of Canada was forecast today in the speech from the throne by Lord Tweedsmuir, governor general of Canada, at the opening session of Parliament.

It was the first time Lord Tweedsmuir (John Buchan) had presided at the opening of a dominion parliament.

"The control credit and the issue of currency, being public matters of direct concern to every citizen," he said, "it is intended, at the present session, to ask parliament to make such changes in the ownership and control of the Bank of Canada, as may be necessary to give to the government a predominant interest in the ownership as well as effective control of the bank."

Provision for "a greater measure of government authority" over the Canadian National Railways also was listed.

Discussing the problem of unemployment, which he said was

Canada's "most urgent" one, Lord Tweedsmuir said that when there is no voluntary control of industrial policy "there are the strongest reasons for state intervention."

Parliament will be invited, he said, to approve the Canadian-United States trade agreement, which Lord Tweedsmuir added "my ministers believe" will "mark a great improvement in Canada's international economic relations."

A WILD MARCH STORM IN THE WOODS

One of the most dramatic scenes in the history of Marion, Ohio, was the storm which struck the town on the night of Feb. 19, 1934. The storm was a wild and furious one, with high winds and heavy rain. It caused much damage to the town and to the surrounding woods. The storm was a reminder of the power of nature and the need for protection.

Widow of Master Swindler of France Starts Anew As Night Club Chorine

Scene at her trial

Mme. Stavisky in her dressing room

By International News Service
NEW YORK — Mme. Arlette Stavisky—one of the most glamorous figures of modern France—is writing a new chapter to her sensational career by appearing as an entertainer at the French Casino in New York.

Even before her marriage to the late Paul Stavisky, she was a model for Chanel in Paris. Born Arlette Simon, she came from a modest background, and up to the time of her marriage to the "financier Napoleon" of France, appeared destined for a life but little out of the ordinary.

Her marriage to him, however, introduced her to luxury and fabulous wealth. She became "the toast of Paris," was showered with gifts and jewels, found her attention sought by some of the highest officials of France.

It was when the police started investigating the structure of her husband's financial empire that her "golden romance" came to sudden disaster.

When authorities closed in on Stavisky, he fled to an isolated chateau in the Alps and there ended his life with a bullet rather than face the investigation. Such was the dramatic finale of life for a man who had been the intimate of high officials, royalty, international bankers and society leaders.

Exonerated at Trial
His death and subsequent disclosures about his activities created a scandal which shook the government to its foundations, caused the riots of Feb. 19, 1934, and resulted in the arrest of 19 men and Mme. Stavisky on charges of complicity in the alleged fraud by which French investors had been swindled out of more than $18,000,000.

Mme. Arlette and 10 male defendants were acquitted. Her de-

JAPANESE ESPIONAGE
REPORTED IN ALASKA

Legislators Tell of Soundings Taken and Maps of Shoreline Drawn by "Fishermen."

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Charges of extensive Japanese espionage in Alaska, conducted from vessels ostensibly operated as fishing craft, were sounded today at the capitol.

Rep. Stroh, (D), New York, asserted the Japanese actually were engaged in "spotting possible airplane fields and submarine bases." Delegate Dimond, (D), Alaska, declared the Asiatic power had amassed detailed information of the territory for use in the event of war. Both spoke before the house merchant marine committee.

"Three Japanese vessels operating ostensibly as fishing craft" are taking soundings, exploring water depths, taking photographs of the shoreline and spotting possible airplane fields and submarine bases," said Stroh.

Dimond, contending "the Japanese know as much about the Alaskan coast line and the Aleutian Islands as we do and possibly more," said surveying parties from Japanese craft do not always stay outside the three-mile limit.

Stroh declared it was the purpose of Japan in the event of war to grab Alaska and thus provide a food supply for the fleet.

Col. Johnson Tells Vets of Experiences in War

Fort Hayes Officer Relates Story of Operation of Intelligence Service Before 40 at 8 Members.

"Behind the Lines" might have been the title of the address made by Col. Walter C. Johnson, chief of the Ohio Military area, at the annual banquet of the Ohio Veterans of Foreign Wars at the Hotel Harding, No. 48, 40 at 8, last night at the annual banquet at Hotel Harding.

Probably never have Marion veterans of the World war heard Col. Johnson in more reminiscent mood, undoubtedly most of

CANN WITNESS

Dr. Alfred H. Probst (above) of Milwaukee, testified in the trial of Louis "Red" Cane, Blumenthal for the Minneapolis slaying of Walter Liggett, that the reputation for truth and veracity of Walter Anderson, star state witness, was "very bad." (Associated Press Photo) copy of "confidential" communications stolen from his wastebasket, and all the time the American forces were marching for the St. Mihiel battle miles away.

In paying high tribute to the men who engaged in deciphering code messages, Colonel Johnson regaled his audience with another of the "jokes" played on the German forces shortly after the Armistice was signed. A group of four or five of the young men of his staff, wishing to give the German forces something to worry about in view of the announcement that the American third army was being formed, were granted permission to set up a wireless station southeast of Metz and "I've never seen a happier bunch of kids," Colonel Johnson said.

Keep Air Hut
They went 20 miles from general headquarters, set up their station, and for three days kept the wireless hot with messages as to the doings of the mythical "third army." By means of the cross sections with which the Allied German forces could intercept the wireless, the messages sent the German army into a state of pandemonium, and on the third night there was a tremendous bombardment of the "third army" quarters by German forces. Luckily, the young men had fled of their joke and had retired to a distance, for the wireless apparatus and the surrounding territory were blown to atoms by the force of the attack.

Colonel Johnson prefaced his interesting account with a brief explanation of his appointment to the general staff, in which he humorously referred to his position as the "lost officer."

When he was called to duty with the intelligence staff and ordered to France, the war department in Washington, D. C., reported no record of a Walt C. Johnson, despite his service with the U. S. Army from the time of the Spanish-American war, and when he arrived overseas officers were surprised to see him, thinking he was dead.

Holland Is Toastmaster
G. J. Holland, presiding as toastmaster for the evening, carried off his duties in excellent form and included in his share of wit and humor some of the "business" for which the 40 at 8 of the American Legion is noted. He awarded huge badges to D. J. Macdonald, Dr. H. A. Hoopes of Latture, J. Wesley Master of Mt. Gilead, T. E. Klinegar and Judge Oscar Cline for "meritorious" service to the legion. Yesterday was Judge Gast's birthday anniversary and the entire group joined in singing "Happy Birthday."

Grand Chief de Train Harry Goldberg of Columbus, one of the distinguished guests, talked on the American Legion membership drive, praising the 40 at 8 as the "workshop of the Legion" and presented star awards to L. M. Eikenberry, Walter E. Hane, N. V. Fournier and L. E. Larsen of Marion, Frank Voltz and Thomas Vaughn of Upper Sandusky and Keith Ridgeway of LaRue, for having enrolled seven new members, or renewed 14 memberships in their respective posts. He announced a "roundup" of Legionnaires in Columbus on March 23, with members of Franklin Post as hosts, as a climax to the statewide membership drive. Awards will be made for the busiest and loquacious entered in a parade which will be a highlight of the meeting. Mr. Goldberg urged that future meetings be conducted according to ritual and that the 11 o'clock service by a team of 40 at 8 members be included in every volunteer's program.

Reunion Speaks
Grand Cheminier Alfred Donthen of Marion, gave a short talk reporting district activities and greetings were extended by a visiting voyager from Cleveland, and Elmer Smith of Marion, president of the Marion Area Corps of Recreators Officers.

Clyde J. Faust, chaplain of Marion Post, said grace preceding the service of the banquet at tables decorated with red and blue carnations. Gene Hill led the singing of popular war-time songs, with Judge Oscar Gast at the piano. Mr. Larsen, chief of staff of Marion Post, introduced Mr. Holland.

Members and guests were present from Walke, Elkhart, LaRue, Mt. Gilead and Prospect.

After Colonel Johnson's talk there was dancing to music furnished by an orchestra led by Mrs. Goldie Swope.

Harry Baldwin was chairman of arrangements for the banquet.

The State of Veterans City has announced its adherence to the convention for the international protection of copyrighted literary and artistic works.

BUM BLOCKADE ROUSES WEST

Oregon, Nevada and Arizona View with Alarm Influx of Indigents.

By United Press
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—California's "bum blockade"—unique move of Los Angeles city police to patrol state borders and shoot away invading vagrants—was watched with growing concern today by neighboring states of Oregon, Nevada and Arizona.

The campaign to "save California from the hobo," launched by Police Chief Jim Davis of Los Angeles, reportedly was throwing a backwash of bums into bordering states, which threatened to create critical situations in border areas.

Governors of all three states threatened to "act" if the California "hobo ban" creates a congestion of unattached hoboes in their domains, and one—Gov. Richard Kirman of Nevada—lodged an official protest with California's authorities.

Thirty bums bounced off a Santa Fe freight train at Cadiz, Cal., into the arms of Los Angeles policemen, deputized by Sheriff Carl Rayburn of Riverside county, and were given marching orders to "get out of California and stay out."

Hitchhikers, arriving with swollen thumbs after dry journey across Arizona and Nevada, were told to "get your thumbs moving in the other direction." Fifteen hoboes were pulled off a Union Pacific train at Kelso, Cal.

The campaign, sponsored by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, faced sharp luster at home. Federal Judge Leon Yankwich warned city officials that the "expeditionary force" is unconstitutional.

Dispatches from Sacramento said Gov. Frank Merriam had received a telegram from the Nevada governor asking "direction." "For the protection of Nevada and her border counties, I would appreciate you acting in preventing Los Angeles police who are threatening to throw back into Nevada indigent residents of other states."

Gov. B. B. Mearns of Arizona ordered state highway patrolmen to report any instances of congestion of vagrants tossed back into that state at Blythe, Cal., and the California side of the Colorado river at Yuma, Ariz., concentrating points for the "Los Angeles Foreign Legion."

Gov. Charles H. Mearns of Oregon issued instructions to state police to watch the border attention closely to see that tramps were not shoved across the state line.

This Happy Lady Gives Advice To Stomach Victims
Tells how Vendol relieved indigestion, gastritis and acid risings. Made bowels regular, quieted her nerves. Advises everyone to try it.

MRS. FERN GEOPFERT

"I am giving this statement as to how Vendol helped me in the hopes that others who suffer may benefit by my experience," said Mrs. Fern Geopfert, attractive young matron of Navarre, Ohio.

"My digestion was poor which caused gas to fill my stomach and a sour burning liquid would rise in my throat. Almost everything I ate would disagree with me. My heart would flutter, breath came short and dizzy feelings rushed over me. I had a bad taste in my mouth and tiny spots would dance before my eyes."

"Vendol quickly relieved the sour, acid condition in my stomach, it regulated my bowels and this ended the dizzy feelings. Now, I eat anything and never have the stomach upsets or gas. I sleep well and am very happy over my improved health that I want to advise everyone to try Vendol."

You just cannot get a better medicine than Vendol for constipation, stomach disorders, or a lazy liver. It is far superior to ordinary patent medicines because every spoonful is loaded down with extracts of herbs that correct these troubles, and the best thing is its quick action.

VENDOL is sold by all the leading druggists everywhere and is highly recommended here by scope would be much wider than that embracing these purposes.

1.—To avoid giving Germany the feeling she has been isolated by the recent discussions of various powers in Paris, in which the reich was not included.

2.—To prevent Germany from making some gesture likely to endanger peace, such as military occupation of the forbidden Rhine-land zone.

3.—Possible redistribution of raw materials as well as the settlement of matters in dispute in Europe.

4.—Possible discussion of redistribution of colonial mandates and possessions—exceedingly sore spots with Germany and Italy.

Additional credence was given the reported plan in diplomatic circles as it dovetails with the general belief Anglo-German relations have been benefited by the accession of King Edward VIII to the British throne.

France hopes this year to complete the most powerful submarine fleet the world ever has seen to keep pace with rebirth of German naval strength, it was learned.

The 1936 naval construction program, now being drafted by experts of the navy and finance ministers, envisages a submarine fleet of 100 vessels, designed to guard the North Sea, Atlantic and Mediterranean coasts.

France's present under-sea strength is given officially as 59 submarines, including nine over-age. The submarine strength of other leading naval powers is: United States, 84; Japan, 58; Great Britain, 51; Italy, 69, and Germany, reportedly 12.

BERLIN, Feb. 7.—Plans for an European peace conference to which Germany reportedly will be invited have not been transmitted to officials of the reich, but it was said Germany would accept such an invitation, provided she may participate on an equal footing with all other powers.

MT. VERNON, O., Feb. 7.—Exact nature of the $25,000 suit described by Attorney Byron W. Bluff as an alienation complaint against former U. S. Sen. C. C. Dill of Washington and Mrs. Grace Dill of Fredericktown, O., remained undisclosed today.

In Washington, D. C., where he maintains an office, the former senator said he did not know the nature of the action brought by Mrs. Margie Dill, his niece by marriage. He said he had received a summons, but it did not specify the complaint.

Blair, who employs Mrs. Margie Dill, admitted papers in the case had been withdrawn as soon as they were filed.

Neither he nor Robert L. Carr, counsel for the other Mrs. Dill, mentioned any of the plaintiff, would discuss the case.

Mrs. Margie Dill was married to Wendell Dill, nephew of the former senator, while both were attending Fredericktown high school. Young Dill has been working in Washington, D. C., where his uncle said he helped him obtain it in "two or three years ago" shortly after the marriage.

Group Leader Says Keeping a Maid Has Nothing To Do with Leisure.

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—Mrs. Wilbur Fribble of Chicago, president of the Housewives League of America, last night took issue with J. P.

Morgan's definition of the leisure class of families "who can afford a maid."

"Keeping a maid hasn't anything to do with leisure—not in this modern age," said Mrs. Fribble, discussing a report of the banker's leisure class theory given to the senate munitions investigating committee.

"Men who take that attitude—and most men do—date themselves as thinking of modern housekeeping as thinking of modern housekeeping in terms of the housekeeper."

That's what Mr. Morgan is doing.

"Does the woman active in business or social service or as a lawyer, doctor or artist, who employs a housekeeper, necessarily belong in the leisure class?"

"Obviously no more so than the man office head who employs a stenographer."

"The fact a man has to employ a stenographer and a housewife a maid generally indicates in this modern age only that they are busy folks."

Nor, she contended, was the employment of a maid or a stenographer necessarily related to wealth.

HOUSEWIVES LEAGUE AND MORGAN AT ODDS

Group Leader Says Keeping a Maid Has Nothing To Do with Leisure.

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—Mrs. Wilbur Fribble of Chicago, president of the Housewives League of America, last night took issue with J. P.

Morgan's definition of the leisure class of families "who can afford a maid."

"Keeping a maid hasn't anything to do with leisure—not in this modern age," said Mrs. Fribble, discussing a report of the banker's leisure class theory given to the senate munitions investigating committee.

"Men who take that attitude—and most men do—date themselves as thinking of modern housekeeping as thinking of modern housekeeping in terms of the housekeeper."

That's what Mr. Morgan is doing.

"Does the woman active in business or social service or as a lawyer, doctor or artist, who employs a housekeeper, necessarily belong in the leisure class?"

"Obviously no more so than the man office head who employs a stenographer."

"The fact a man has to employ a stenographer and a housewife a maid generally indicates in this modern age only that they are busy folks."

Nor, she contended, was the employment of a maid or a stenographer necessarily related to wealth.
